The event stands for a meeting place of employment. It allows students, winners of Al Akhawayn and other major schools to meet, to get to know each other and exhibit their skills to large companies based in Morocco or abroad.

The 2008 edition of the Job Fair is marked by the official sponsorship of the Ministry of Employment and Vocational Training and the participation of ISCAE.

On the program this year includes a forum and workshops that will foster close contacts. Several steps have been taken to this effect: unlimited access for six months at the bank of CVs, a private space for interviews pre-hiring and an inclusion in the catalogue that will be distributed for free to visitors. The association of winners of Al Akhawayn also provided a space for relaxation and restoration for visitors.

Just for recalling that Al Akhawayn University, founded in 1995, currently has 1829 winners on the labour market, 77% of them working in Morocco, 10.90% in Europe and the rest is divided between Canada and the Middle East, whose margin of pay varies between 6,000 and 70,000 DH.
